Rancho Valencia

Rancho Santa Fe, California

Set a scenic drive north from San Diego, this recently re-launched resort is a true getaway, where you can wander through olive groves, take a tennis class with a U.S. Open winner or enjoy the new yoga studio or spa, featuring organic products by Amala. Led by a Green Committee, the resort applies a host of sustainable practices, from recycling, water conservation, and waste management to the use of biodegradable cleaning products, recycled materials, locally-sourced and organic foods and an electric car plug-in station for guests.
